

Yantai Lake Park, Shandong

Yantai is located in the North-East of China, Province of Shandong. The site for this project is rather bucolic, with soft hills & lake areas.

A local development firm chose Atelier Girot to design the master plan for this 35 acres site destined for a housing & tourist facility complex of 90 000 m<sup>2</sup>. Various lots sizes, responding to density variations and quality of the amenities were to be distributed around the existing lake.

A zoning master plan concentrating on lots distribution strategies and road network to connect this sloped site was required. Among the parameters were: water management run off and collection, optimization of the circulation paths, orientation of the various housing units, program for the green spaces.

A landscape master plan is scheduled after initial permit phase.
